Dear Rachel

I write to you to formally withdraw my objection to the above planning application provided that the developer does as he said he would ie
'We have pulled the line of the building back, adjoining yours and changed the elevation from timber to brick'

The planning portal seems to be down so we cannot check what is now on the portal.
My husband Simon sent over the revised drawings as we understand them to be, so as long as that is the case then we remove our objections.

With thanks
