Subject: Tree in conservation area

Hi

I live at 152a Belsize Road, London, NW6 4BJ

I have a lime tree in the garden which appears to be dead - this is the second summer with no foliage at all.

The tree officer visited once previously to give me the ok to trim the crown – that was probably 10 years ago.

I'd like to get it removed due to the risk of it falling and damaging walls / fences and the garden if we have storms in the winter.

As we're in the South Hampstead conservation area I wanted to check if you need to come and see it or if I just have to get a tree surgeon to look and confirm it is dead.

Thanks

Frank
