Mr Sild suggested that whilst it was marginal an application was probably sensible in order to avoid future disputes or problems if compliance issues are raised. He suggested this alteration should be made via a Non-Material Amendment application because the small increase in terrace height is minor in nature and wont constitute a meaningful change

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent. Yes No

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?
