Made to measure Square Hole Cast Iron Grilles available within 7 – 10 days

Why wait months for a foundry to cast a grille to your dimensions when we have the material to make your cast iron grille already on our shelves? No need to commission drawings, no waiting for wooden patterns to be made, no requirement for patterns to be constructed and no need to wait for a foundry to melt and pour the iron.

We have done all the hard work for you. We have already commissioned square hole iron gratings in 36 inch (910mm lengths) in 10 different widths and stocked them on our shelves ready to be cut to size. We're the only company that makes cast iron gratings and cuts them to size, all you have to do is choose the size and select the length and width from over 600 different sizes from the guide here ...Made to Measure Cast Iron Gratings

The grilles are already semi primed black on our shelves to stop them rusting in our workshops so we are afraid they can't be supplied bare metal. We are happy to supply them in the primed finish if preferred to the gloss black finish (please let us know when placing your order) but please note they will rust much more quickly than the fully painted versions and also they will have bare metal ground finish on the cut ends. There is no difference in price having them without the gloss finish but it will reduce the delivery time by a few days. Customers wanting to paint with their own colours with oil or epoxy paints should order this primed finish (the gloss black is almost impossible to paint over in any other colour than black).

For larger orders we can and have supplied made to measure grilles in all sorts of colours, professionally primed with 3 part epoxy and a 2 part gloss or matt top coat. There is an additional cost of £200+vat extra for this and it can't be ordered via this website – please email item number, quantity and RAL number for a proforma cost for this.
