2020/5753/T	Charles Marks	15/12/2020 13:04:54	OBJ	I object to this second application to remove a considerable amount of vegetation from this site. This once again an example of and insurance company led "scorched earth" policy of removal of almost all vegetation around buildings purely to minimize their costs when there is possible subsidence. I also note that a number of trees/shrubs are being removed (Rowan/Birch for example) where the Arboricultural Assessment Report clearly states that these trees are not implicated (in the root survey). I see no reason that previous planning decisions in relation to this should not stand.
2020/5753/T	Sebastian Wocker	27/12/2020 18:49:42	OBJ	I strongly object to the felling of these perfectly innocent trees outside Camden Art Centre building. Contrary to the application they pose no apparent threat to the building's foundation at all. They are several feet from the actual building. It's insurance company nonsense. They're ruining the borough. The amount of gratuitous felling and pollarding going on is criminal.
2020/5753/T	Jonathan Fenton-Fischer	27/12/2020 19:03:20	OBJ	This is nonsense. There is absolutely no possibility that these trees and shrubs could cause anything like the monetary costs claimed in the report due to any detrimental effects. Nor are they likely to be causing any significant damage whatsoever. But then it is probably appropriate that a Council so willing to destroy and over-pollard its trees, throughout the borough, for no reason, would allow their own Arts Centre to be devoid of any greenery! Not to mention the monetary value and beneficial pollution effects that trees represent. Perhaps a genuinely independent arboreal report should be commissioned.

2020/5753/T	Rachel Wilkinson	28/12/2020 00:32:44	APP	Why would you fell this? For what purpose? It is a beautiful tree and adds so much joy each time it blooms. At the very least, dig it up and re-locate it! More than happy for you to re-locate it in my garden in fact! I totally disagree with destroying a tree for new purpose.
2020/5753/T	Kelly McMullon	27/12/2020 19:56:21	PETITNOBJ E	There does not seem to be a valid reason to remove these trees. The cherry blossom in the spring provides a lovely feature to the area.
