This application gave insufficient notice I have not been informed by letter of this application This application is mystifying in the need for it.

I have unsuccessfully attempted to contact the named officer.

I have left messages to request discussion of this worrying application.

Upon first perusal it would appear that my family home will be very much affected. To the detriment it will affect every aspect of our life health and well being.

I intend submitting a longer more concise opposing document when I have consulted with your named officer and others in Camden concerned with Housing .

But I need to register firmly that myself and my household are absolutely against planning permission for this ad hoc dwelling.

1 Steeles Road is a semi detached Edwardian dwelling 3 storeys plus basement area and a loft conversion.

Historically it is to be linked with 1 Fellows Road Seaford Lodge . Which was the first dwelling on the estate of Sir Richard Steele. 1 and 2 Steeles Road were built virtually alongside Seaford Lodgewhich is why the garden space is so much smaller than the others in Steeles Road.

It is of value and this extension is questionable on Conservation terms.

I would value a reply and a discussion on both the idea and need for this appendage and how this will affect my home health and well being Christine Brody
