My objection is based on placing a brick wall to cover about 50% of full length of early daily sunlight window that has been in existence for more than 20 years. I am very willing to find compromise, which I believe to be possible but as it stands the extension wall is just too high against a lengthy window and the daylight would be seriously reduced and the view of sky reduced to a brick wall about 2 feet away from the existing window. There just has to be a sensible compromise of willing reasonable people. |
