2021/1333/T	Hannah de Carteret	05/04/2021 11:11:53	OBJ	I own flat 101C on Torriano Avenue, which is currently occupied by tenants. I understand that the subsidence this tree may have caused has significantly reduced with the pollarding done within the previous few years. I would therefore question why it needs to be fully felled and why it cannot be regularly pollarded to reduce the risks of subsidence to the property in question. I object on the grounds that everywhere, but especially in London, we should do everything we can to protect mature trees, which provide improved air quality for residents, habitats for wildlife and emotional and mental wellbeing for those who live near them. This tree is a significant part of the view out of the many flats which back onto the courtyard in which it is situated, along Torriano Avenue and provides significant emotional sustenance through it's beauty to those residents.I would ask that everything be done to preserve its life.
