This architectural elevation drawing shows a building facade with a gabled roof and two chimneys. The left side of the drawing is partially obscured by a large, detailed tree. The building features a mix of materials, including brick and timber. Key elements include a central A/C unit, a large timber chimney, and a series of windows and doors. Numerous numerical elevation points are marked throughout the drawing, indicating the height of various features. The drawing is annotated with material names like 'Brick', 'Timber', and 'Gothic', as well as functional labels like 'Vent', 'VP', 'IA', 'RWP', and 'Sensor'. The ground level is indicated by a thick black line at the bottom, with a small brick structure labeled 'Brick' and an elevation of 49.65 on the left.
