Dear Matthew,

Thank you for this email. Apologies for the delayed response.

From what I can tell on the revised plans it looks like the parapet would be 1.3m tall. I've calculated this assuming the plans are to scale. But could this be definitely confirmed?

Assuming a 1.3m height, whilst I consider this to be a definite improvement on the proposal, it will still not obscure the view into the children's bedroom. It's not clear from these plans whether someone who is sitting down will be able to see into the rooms. But it certainly doesn't prevent anyone standing up from being able to do so.

I would prefer a taller barrier. I notice that in other terraces further down the street such frosted glass (?) privacy screens have been erected.

Kind regards,

Marie-Anne Fishwick

To whom it may concern.

I am e-mailing you as you have made comment on a planning application ref: 2021/0971/P.

1 Gladys Road

London

NW6 2PU

"Creation of rear roof terrace at 2nd floor level, with new French doors and balustrade."

The applicant has responded to comments made by adjusting their proposal. Please see the revised plans attached.

I would be grateful if you could confirm if you have any further comments to make? Should you wish to uphold or withdraw any prior comment, please advise?

I would like to request any further responses within the next 2 weeks.

If I do not hear from you, your existing comment will be given due consideration when making any recommendation to approve or refuse the revised scheme.

Should you have any queries, please let me know? Apologies in advance as I know my phone line is quite poor at the moment.

Kind regards,

Matthew
