Dear Planning Officer

I am a long-time resident of Bloomsbury - I have lived with my family on Great Ormond Street for 18 years. I am a regular attendee at St George's church, opposite and across where this building is proposed to be built.

From what I have seen in the application and on the One Museum Street website, the new building proposed will dominate the area inappropriately. Bloomsbury is a lively and multicultural area, with local schools and an established community. Of course, it also has a great history and parks for us all. This building does not sit easily with the local community connections and the flowing architectural feel of the area.

I oppose the current application.

Kind regards

Sara Payne
