2021/3797/P	Mrs B. Bryant	04/09/2021 14:54:42	COMNOT	I absolutely object to Kenwood being used in this way. It is an historic house with an art collection in an historic landscape within a conservation area. To turn it into a funfair is an appalling idea (and calling it an "immersive Christmas themed visitor attraction etc etc. doesn't change that). There are plenty of other parts of the Heath that can be used for that (across from Whitestone Pond, for one). What possible reason can there be to ruin the atmosphere at Kenwood at just the time families will be visiting over the holidays. As stated in the Kenwood Guide Book published by English Heritage (1995) "the first Lord Iveagh's wishes that the atmosphere of a gentleman's private park should be preserved". That is backed up by the The Iveagh Bequest Kenwood Act of Parliament 1929. Therefore it would seem that you would be breaking the law by setting up and running a funfair for six weeks!
