

Figure 3 – Lightwell at the front of House 47 (External route from the basement flat to the gas meter.) By looking through an existing void in the wall below the steps in the lightwell we believe it is hollow and we can run the pipe internally and protrude nearer the steps thereby minimising the visibility of the pipe. We would of course make good around the protrusion. The pipe would then run around the step and into the flat at low level