Dear Camden Council,

I'm writing to object to the proposed plans to remove these existing trees at 8 Doughty Mews.

I cycle past these trees every day and it would be an enormous loss to the local area if they were to be destroyed- trees such as these are so critical to supporting birds and local wildlife, and contribute to making a calm, peaceful corner of the city.

The past couple of years have negatively affected my mental health to a certain degree, and I cherish being able to leave my home and be in nature- local trees such as these provide this experience.

It would be irresponsible to remove them when we are already facing the task of tackling climate change- we need more trees, not less.

Regards,

Harry Page
