

A photograph of a grand interior space in the Louvre Museum. In the center, a wide staircase with dark steps and a wooden handrail leads to an upper level. The staircase is framed by a classical archway supported by two large, fluted columns. Above the archway, a red sign with white text reads "Musée du Louvre". To the left of the staircase, a large marble sculpture of a seated female figure is displayed on a circular pedestal. To the right, another large marble sculpture of a standing female figure is shown. On the walls, there are several large, rectangular stone reliefs. The floor is made of light-colored tiles, and the walls are a pale, neutral color. The ceiling is high and features a decorative, coffered design.

Proposal for hanging slate inscription.

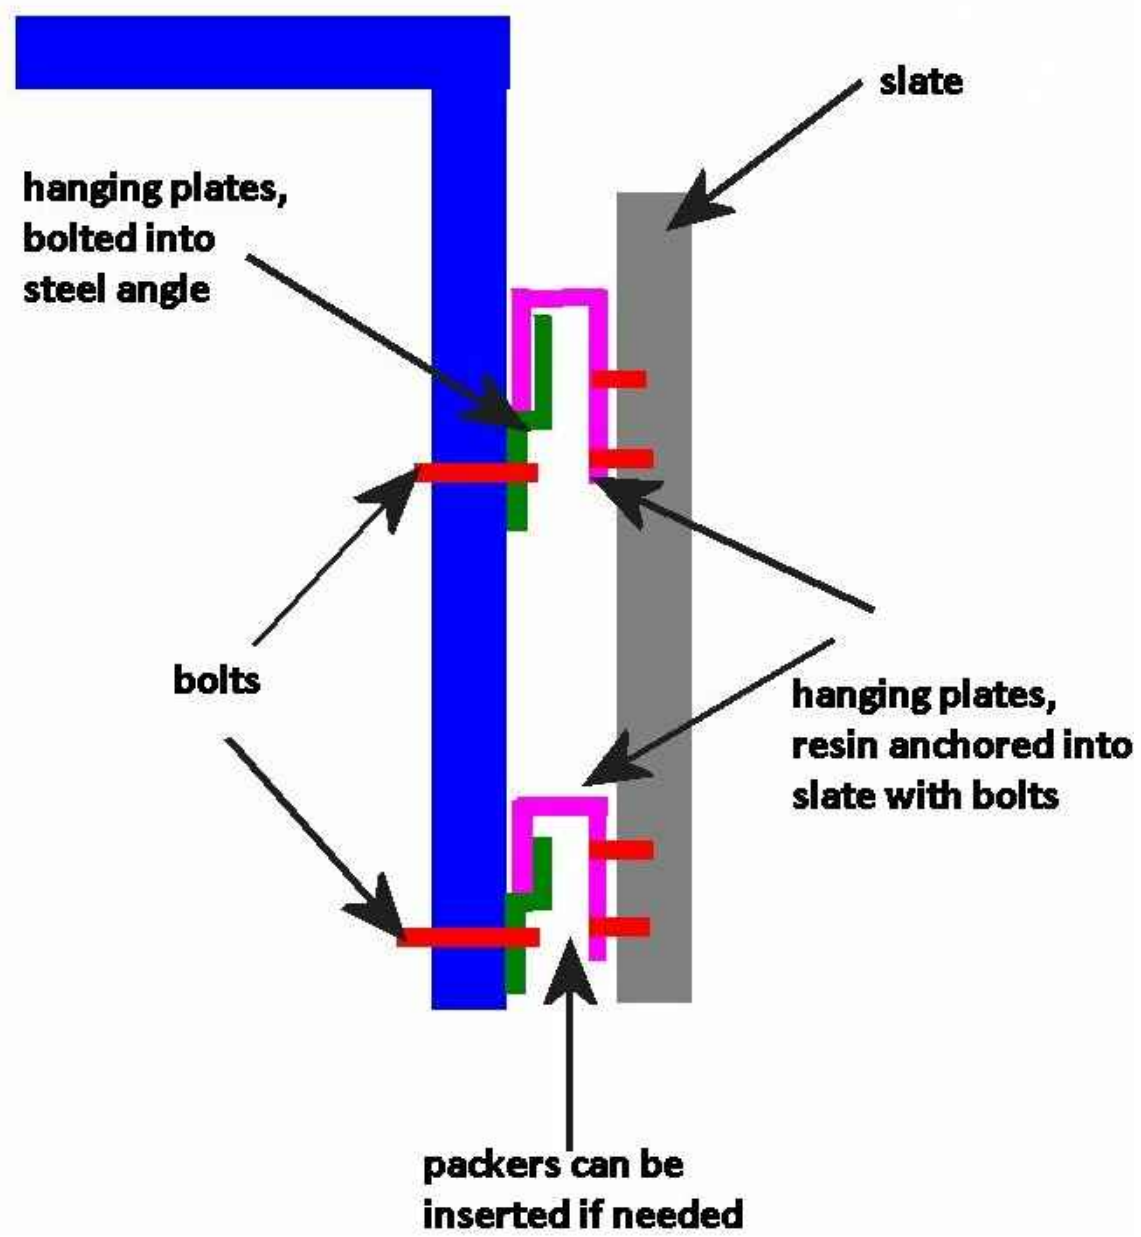

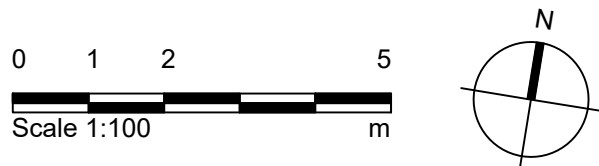

Figure 2: ABA's sketch proposal for hanging slate inscription (not to scale).

[illegible]

Donald Insall Associates
Chartered Architects and Historic Building Consultants

12 Devonshire Street
London W1G 7AB
(+44) 020 7245 9888
london@insall-architects.co.uk

British Museum, London

Ground Floor Plan	Project	No
	Scale (A1)	Status	Revision
	BM.03	1002
	1:100	P	0