Dear Sir/Madam,

I'm writing with regards to the trees at 8 Doughty Street and object to them being removed. I understand that a plan is being formulated to enable the trees and the nearby buildings to coexist in harmony. With pollution being a huge problem in London, I would urge you to rethink the environmental benefit of these trees which are part of the local ecosystem and a home to birds and wildlife.

During the pandemic, we were at times only allowed one walk a day - this taught us the importance of being in nature, seeing the green and blue of trees and sky etc. The benefit it brings people's mental and physical health is huge.

I urge you to prevent the removal of these trees.

Best wishes,
Aliyah Keshani
