Network Rail is pleased to approve the above-mentioned application as the risk to the railway and/or infrastructure is minimal.

However, the developer must still have some sort of agreement with Network Rail to install on our property. If the developer hasn't already, then they must be in contact with Network Rail to agree the installation of the ad boards and enter licences that may be required.

Please contact Property services Anglia via this email [REDACTED]

I trust the above clearly sets out Network Rail's position on the planning application. Should you require any more information from Network Rail, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,
