Comment

Do you have any comments or consider that the proposal is harmful to or does not preserve the character and appearance of the conservation area?

Clearly with the underpinning, this is an opportune time to carry out these improvements, subject to adequate structural safety checks. Many of the houses in this part of Croftdown Road already have lightwells which, with the excavation of other areas, substantially improves the accommodation with only a marginal impact on front gardens. DPCAAC does not object subject to adequate safety check on underpinning and excavation.
