Dear Patrick,

With Ref; The Great Ormond Street Hospital plans.

I wish to write to make clear that there has been no notification notices put up in Great Ormond Street or the surrounding streets to inform the public of these plans. This must be illegal.

The plans are not suitable for a residential area for several reasons.
Noise from air conditioning plans for the roof of the proposed new hospital.

Pollution from the planed trucks coming down small streets, 5 years of 6 trucks every hour, there are children's schools and locals who are fed up with the current pollution.

Why build in an already congested area a hospital for children , when a beautiful hospital could be built in outer London which would be safer and less stressful for the children it intends to treat.

Sincerely,

Tom Bell
