2022/2019/P	Jan Kattein	22/06/2022 18:21:53	SUPPRT	This is one of the most imaginative and aspirational proposals that has been put forward in Central London in a decade. It will be a fantastic asset to local people, contribute to the unique and quirky character of Camden, support biodiversity and massively improve connectivity in a part of London bisected by roads and railway lines. The most wonderful part of the proposal is that it has been initiated and developed through grass roots processes. Aside from the tangible benefits that the project brings, it will give a massive boost to those who have invested themselves in creating the project and set an important precedent for local people shaping their neighbourhood. Camden Council should go beyond approving the planning application but should offer stewardship, logistical support and funding to help make it a reality.
2022/2019/P	Asato Saito	22/06/2022 19:06:54	COMMNT	I used to be live around, but didn't know this. It seems to be a great project with promising vision. There are similar project in the world major cities, not just NYC, and I really hope that Camden can join them.
2022/2019/P	Helen Limb	22/06/2022 18:08:47	SUPPRT	Saw the plans through a VR headset. Lovely, simple plans enhancing the existing Victorian brickwork and architecture. Looking down on the surrounding streets will be an amazing experience. Airy, interesting and making the most of what we have. The streets around Camden Gardens need to be given a lift; this project will do exactly that.
2022/2019/P	Elizabeth Sutton-Klein	22/06/2022 11:59:21	SUPNOT	I welcome the plans to transform an elevated section of former railway line in Camden into a form of linear park.  The proposed development is for an elevated park with inclusive access points. It is a well-researched proposal which if granted permission could create a new green amenity space in inner London by rejuvenating an existing but disused section of former railway. This is a desirable development because pedestrian connectivity in the area including for people needing step-free access, would be increased. Visiting the kind of amenity space proposed would also make people feel good.  This planning application therefore merits planning permission and I would urge Camden Council to endorse it and grant planning permission.
2022/2019/P	Oliver Barrett	22/06/2022 18:42:45	SUPPRT	I think it's a fantastic idea. Anything that better connects the borough's various communities, that makes Camden a more attractive, walkable place and that gives the residents of Camden something to be proud of, that demonstrates the community's vision, forward-thinking and progressiveness is a win in my book. We need more places to walk, every city and borough does, and more places to see the areas in which we live from a new vantage point, panoramically, with a new perspective of how we all fit together. I sincerely hope that it comes to fruition. Best of luck

2022/2019/P	Florence Wilkinson	22/06/2022 11:01:41	SUPPRT	I would like to give my full support to this application. We live in an area where green spaces have been depleted, at least in part as a result of HS2, so I think that the highline would be a hugely welcome addition. I strongly believe the highline will be of benefit to the local community, to the environment (which is of course under increasing pressure), and biodiversity. It also has potential to improve air quality - not just by dint of it being a new green space, but also through encouraging people to travel by foot instead of taking other more polluting modes of transport.
2022/2019/P	Graham Hobson	23/06/2022 09:41:23	SUPPRT	I have attended two events now that discuss plans for the Camden High Line generally, and superficially phase 1 of the project. Whilst I am not a local resident I do regularly visit the Kings Cross area and parts of the Regents Canal and am very much in favour of this project. I have seen similar projects to this in New York (the Highline), in Paris (the promenade planté) and in Chicago (the 606). These are all beautiful spaces that greatly benefit nearby residents with green space and a chance to escape the streets below. They create local pride and a chance for residents and visitors, individuals, friends and families to enjoy outside space along with their community. Compared to some of the other similar projects around the world, this one is one of the most budget conscious I have seen, both in terms of the initial build costs and the annual maintenance. It has also been planned with the highest degree of local consultation and community participation versus other projects. ████████████████████, I want to contribute to and participate in this project to create a sense of legacy. For my sons to know we helped to bring this beautiful project about will be hopefully a sense of pride for them for years to come.
