

A close-up photograph of a brick wall. The bricks are light-colored, possibly yellowish-tan, with some darker staining and wear. The mortar joints are dark and recessed. The bricks are laid in a standard running bond pattern. A vertical corner or joint is visible on the left side of the image.

*EXISTING GAULT BRICK ON THE DWELLING
HISTORIC ELEVATION*