Dear Jaspreet Chana,

I am writing to you as I was unable to use the comments section on the website. I would like to register my strong objection to 5 Pilgrim's Lane's proposed installation of two air conditioning units.

I had commented on earlier plans for the property but this seems to be a new feature in the application? There are already noise pollution issues closeby - from the (now closed) Kojo's air vents installed without prior Council permission and other buildings on the high street.

These two proposed air conditioning units are quite unnecessary in a domestic situation. No one in the neighbouring houses on Pilgrim's Lane (1,3,5,7,9) has air conditioning units and they are bound to increase noise pollution levels beyond an acceptable margin and really impact on all neighbours throughout the day and night. We are baffled as to why this is still being considered.

Many thanks for your attention to this matter.

Kind regards
Mary Horlock
