Dear colleagues

Who could be against a new Children's Cancer Centre ?

But some of us continue to worry that neighbours and others' concerns are not yet being fully heard/responded to

I am writing as someone not quite so local - 15 minutes walk away - but who spends my working life in the area.

My work relates to child public health I continue to be concerned that the public health aspects of the proposal – air quality, heavy traffic, and the impact which all new builds have on our sustainability goals are insufficiently addressed.

Balancing one value against another is always hard - but children - including children with cancer - need healthy environments as well as hospitals..

Kind regards

Professor Helen Roberts
