

From: Sophie Mortimer
Sent: 15 November 2022 20:15
To: Planning
Cc: David Fowler; save museum street
Subject: Reference: 2021/2954/P One Museum Street - Objection

I strongly object to the proposal for One Museum street reference 2021/2954/P

The proposal is an insult to the history of the area and the locality - it is out of synch and totally insensitive to the architecture and living thriving community.

Height

Any new building or tower must fit in with the area and not dominate and overpower in the height looking and being out of place destroying character and space in the area. The tower's height has to be the same height or lower and the existing Travelodge. The new proposal with the overwhelming height will be an eyesore also creating lack of light and crowding of space - the existing Travelodge height works in its unimposing height - it is discreet. The new tower must fit the area.

Conservation

This proposal as said is an insult to the unique history and architecture of Bloomsbury and Covent Garden - this tower and development proposal will destroy, ruin this unique and heritage part of London. It cannot go ahead. It is a destruction and ruination of a world heritage area.

The proposed tower will also ruin the views from Bedford square - The British Museum and Drury Lane. The old buildings within the conservation area on West Central Street and Museum Street are under threat of being gutted or demolished. These have to be protected from being destroyed.

Regards,

Sophie Mortimer
Flat 4
1 Little Russell Street
London WC1A 2HR.