Description

Please describe details of the proposed development or works including any change of use

The roof equipment is as follows:-

Kitchen extract rises up through the floor, turns through 90deg at 1200x300. The duct runs horizontal between the gantry and light well to the riser. The duct then turns 90degrees and rises up to high level discharging 1m above the roof eves with a high velocity nozzle. The fan and noise attenuators will be mounted in the horizontal section in between the roof lights.

Kitchen and General Supply:-

The supply AHU will be mounted on the gantry steelwork. The ductwork from the AHU will split at roof level and drop down in two places either side of the roof gantry.

One side is an existing riser and the other side will be through a roof light.

Where the duct crosses the gantry it will be 2200mm to the underside of duct to the gantry walkway.

There will be attenuation mounted on the intake and discharge sides of the AHU.

Toilet Extract:-

The toilet extract duct will rise up next to the supply duct and will terminate a suitable distance away from the air intake.

Air Conditioning:-

The AC condenser will be mounted on the gantry walkway in a similar position as the existing one.
